2. Customers in other European Union countries.

If you are VAT-registered in your home country we will invoice you without VAT under present EU cross-border trade regulations. You must give us a valid VAT number when you register. If you have not given us a valid VAT number, we must invoice including Belgian VAT at the then current rate. Unfortunately if you then give us the number we cannot re-invoice without VAT.

Note:

Under EU regulations we can only invoice you VAT-free if the goods are delivered to an address in your country. If you try to enter a delivery address in a different country you will get an automatic message blocking the address. If you need to deliver direct to a third country, please contact us and we can look for a solution together.

If you are not VAT-registered, we must invoice you including Belgian VAT at the then current rate. If you register subsequently, please let us know as soon as possible and we will invoice you going forward without VAT. We cannot re-invoice you for previously invoiced orders.

3. Customers in all other countries.

We will invoice without VAT under normal EU export regulations.
